My Great-Great Grandfather, George Brown, built a water powered grist mill in 1843. (It's featured in the illustration above and protected as a national historic landmark that still stands today). He used mill stones to grind the grains to produce farm animal feed and flour from the wheat he grew on his farm.

Franklin Brown, one of George's sons, joined his father in the business that he directed until he retired in 1920. As our country was celebrating the dawn of the 20th century, Brown's business started on its path of expansion and growth with the addition of Franklin Brown's four sons, the third generation, into the family business.

The four sons formed a partnership called F.M. Brown's Sons that was later incorporated in 1948. Each son successfully established separate but supporting divisions of F.M. Brown's including a large animal food division in Birdsboro, PA; the flour division in Sinking Spring, PA which later moved into a new plant in Fleetwood, PA; a working farm in Douglassville, PA and a fuel oil and coal division in Reading, PA. Later, their sons, the fourth generation of Brown's, entered the corporation.

In 1960, Harvey Brown, my Father and a member of the fourth generation of F.M. Brown's, moved his family to Sinking Spring, PA and began selling large animal foods that were produced by his brother in Birdsboro, PA. Harvey enjoyed a thriving business and had many trucks lined up waiting to be loaded with feed for their farm animals.

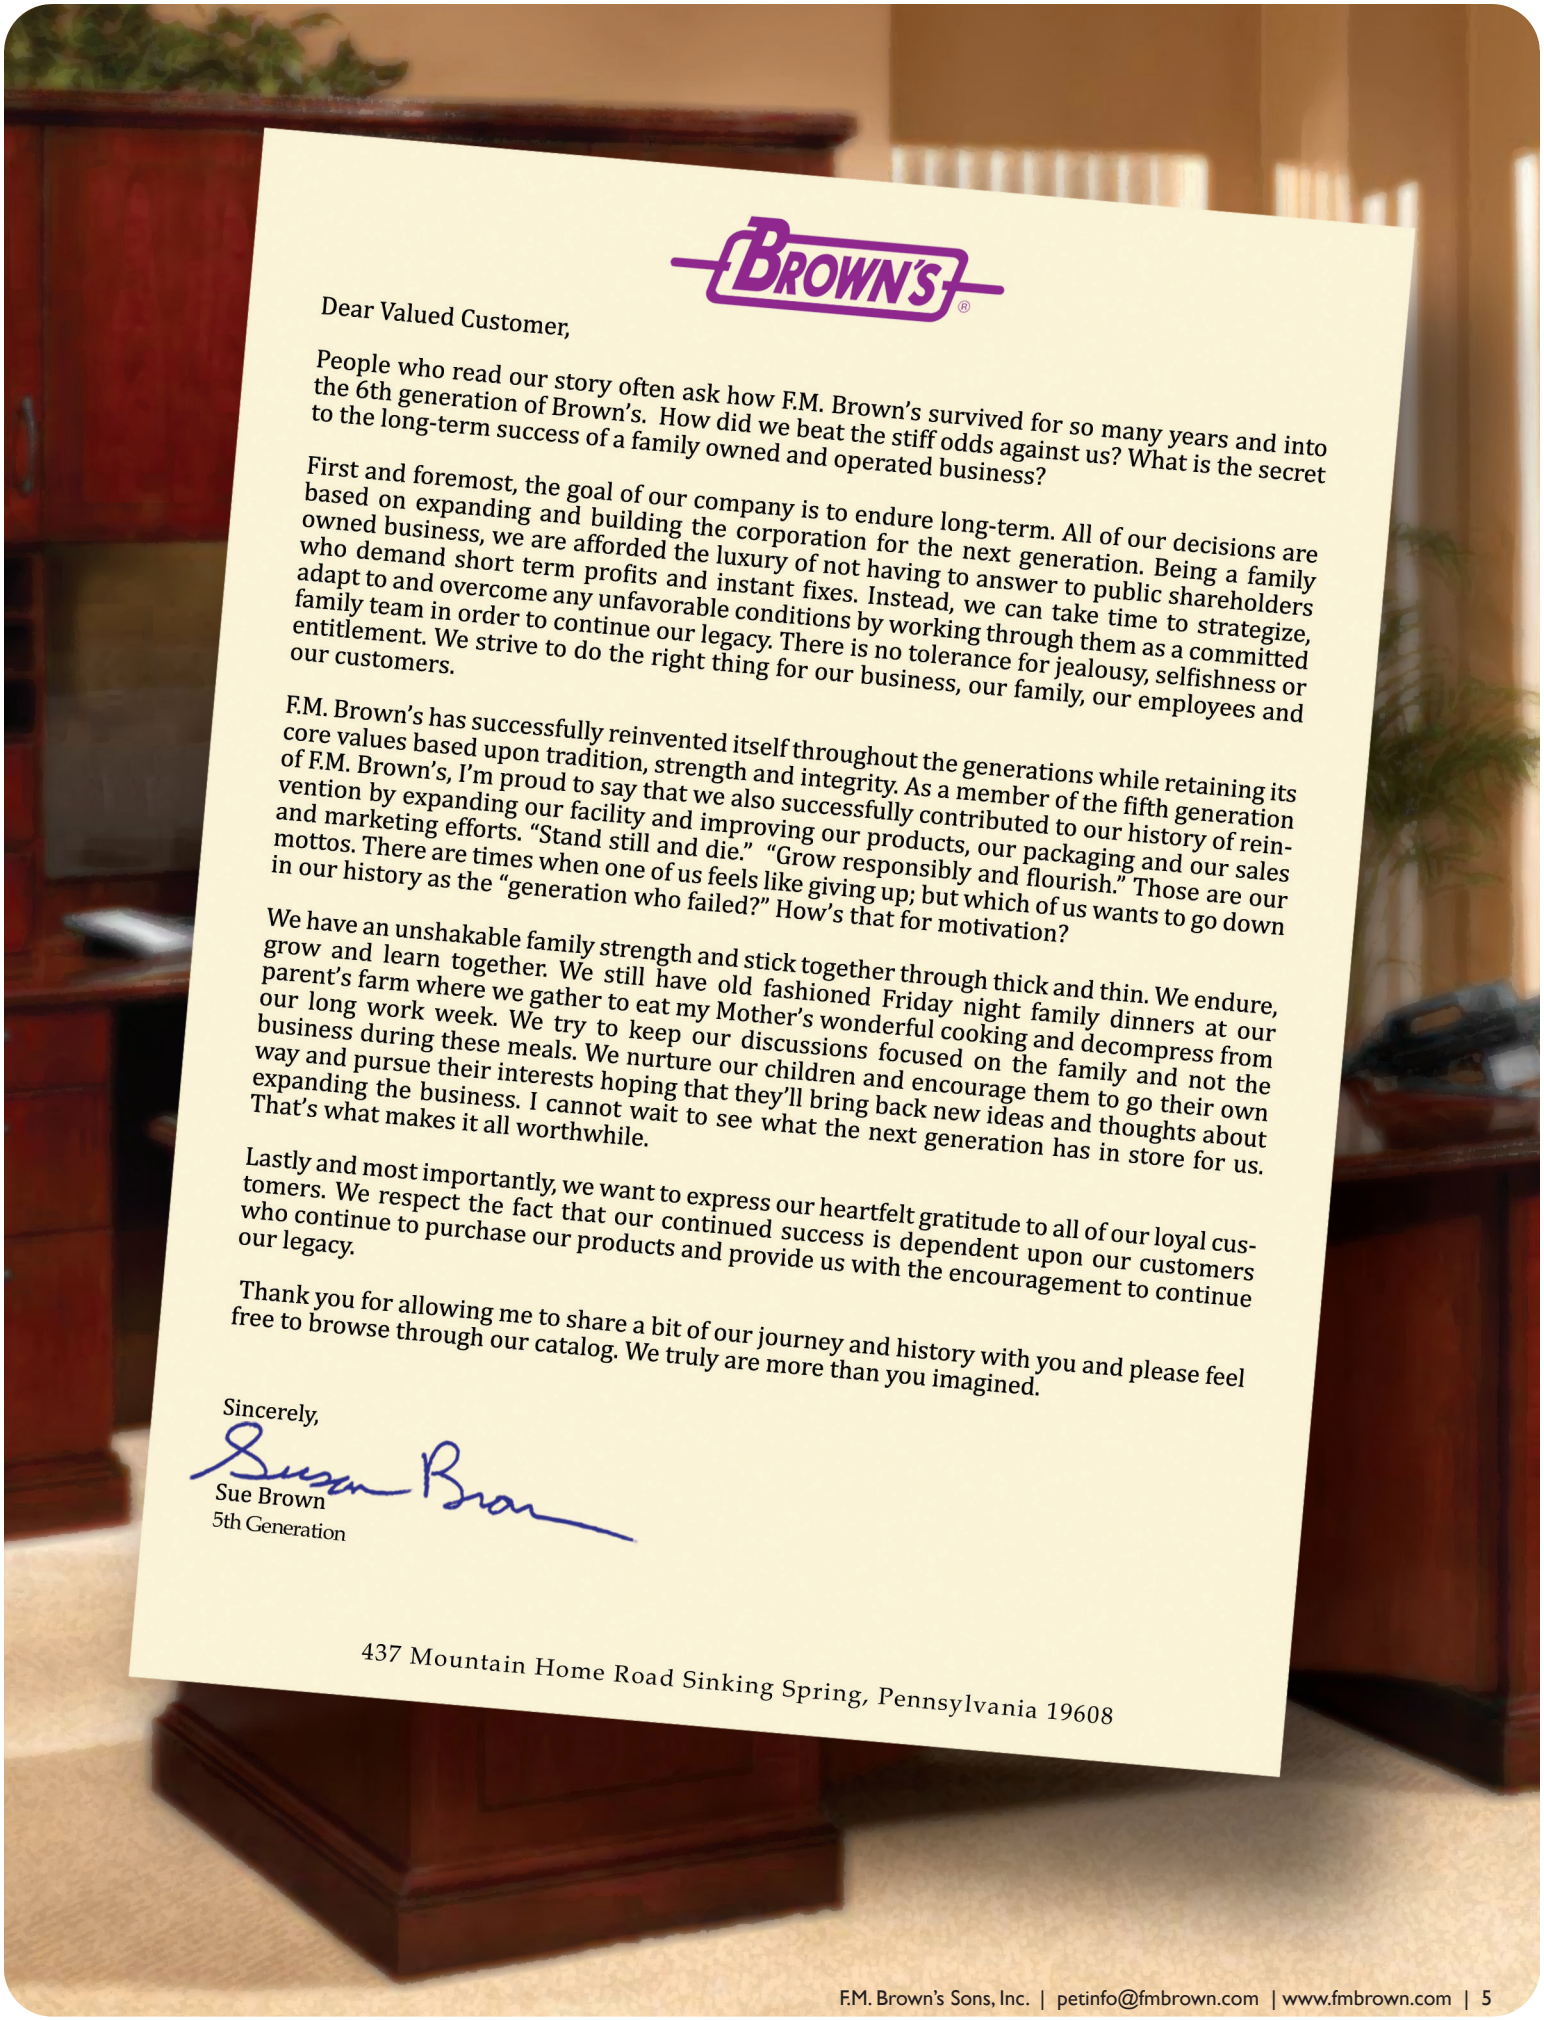

He then began to notice that farmers in the area were selling their land to developers and that it was time to think about the prospect of reinventing his business. Harvey noticed that people in the suburbs were setting up wild bird feeding stations in their backyards. He enjoyed the hobby but had difficulty finding a good quality wild bird food in the area. He began to explore the business of producing wild bird food at his facility. He channeled his entrepreneurial spirit, did his research, and spent endless hours setting up the plant to produce and package wild bird food. This was a brand new venture for F.M. Brown's.

With blood, sweat and tears, Harvey built his division from the ground up and made innovations in manufacturing procedures, including his exclusive five-stage cleaning process. He had no tolerance for dust, dirt or inferior ingredients. With his high standards, he established us a hobbyist quality wild bird food company that caters to people who are true hobbyists, interested in bringing beautiful songbirds into their backyard feeding stations. His loyal customers were so impressed with his wild bird food that they asked him to produce companion pet foods as well. He remembers when he received his first full truckload order for wild bird and companion pet food and how he celebrated that day.

Now under the supervision of the fifth generation of Brown's, Marianne Brown Egolf as Manager of the division, we have expanded the Sinking Spring facility in order to keep up with the demand for our trusted brands, licensed products, and private label companion pet and wild bird products that are sold and recognized throughout the world. We're proud to have "stepped up to the plate" and reinvented the business again. My dad, Harvey Brown, was there to guide us all the way through the expansion with encouraging words and instilling us with his values, high standards, and work ethic.

F.M. Brown's has grown into five privately held manufacturing facilities with divisions that include fuel oil and coal, a working farm, pigeon feed, grass seed, companion pet food and treats, wild bird food, equine treats, pond food, farm animal foods, and of course flour for the snack industry. We'll continue our legacy into the sixth generation who will hopefully one day pass the business onto their children... the 7th generation of Brown's.

FROM OUR FAMILY TO YOURS!

Dear Valued Customer,

People who read our story often ask how F.M. Brown's survived for so many years and into the 6th generation of Brown's. How did we beat the stiff odds against us? What is the secret to the long-term success of a family owned and operated business?

First and foremost, the goal of our company is to endure long-term. All of our decisions are based on expanding and building the corporation for the next generation. Being a family owned business, we are afforded the luxury of not having to answer to public shareholders who demand short term profits and instant fixes. Instead, we can take time to strategize, adapt to and overcome any unfavorable conditions by working through them as a committed family team in order to continue our legacy. There is no tolerance for jealousy, selfishness or entitlement. We strive to do the right thing for our business, our family, our employees and our customers.

F.M. Brown's has successfully reinvented itself throughout the generations while retaining its core values based upon tradition, strength and integrity. As a member of the fifth generation of F.M. Brown's, I'm proud to say that we also successfully contributed to our history of reinvention by expanding our facility and improving our products, our packaging and our sales and marketing efforts. "Stand still and die." "Grow responsibly and flourish." Those are our mottos. There are times when one of us feels like giving up; but which of us wants to go down in our history as the "generation who failed?" How's that for motivation?

We have an unshakable family strength and stick together through thick and thin. We endure, grow and learn together. We still have old fashioned Friday night family dinners at our parent's farm where we gather to eat my Mother's wonderful cooking and decompress from our long work week. We try to keep our discussions focused on the family and not the business during these meals. We nurture our children and encourage them to go their own way and pursue their interests hoping that they'll bring back new ideas and thoughts about expanding the business. I cannot wait to see what the next generation has in store for us. That's what makes it all worthwhile.

Lastly and most importantly, we want to express our heartfelt gratitude to all of our loyal customers. We respect the fact that our continued success is dependent upon our customers who continue to purchase our products and provide us with the encouragement to continue our legacy.

Thank you for allowing me to share a bit of our journey and history with you and please feel free to browse through our catalog. We truly are more than you imagined.

Sincerely,

Sue Brown
